

A fair sized crowd was present in the court room when court convened at 9:20, expecting that the Linscaine dog cases would be taken up immediately. However, Judge Coyner heard a number of minor cases, and at 10:20 recess until Robert's arrival.

Many questions made in the motion picture trial will not be elaborated in this report. In the event a motion picture trial is common, it is probable that the extension of sentence, which is provided for in some judge-made precedents, will be made, especially if the defendant while on bail has been found guilty.

Kidney Diseases are Too Dangerous to be Neglected.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. In quick succession follow backache, headache, nervousness, lameness and soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease.

Don't neglect your kidneys. Avert them in times of need with a safe and certain remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills.

Cures in Newark prove the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Newark case:

Amos Frey, shoemaker at 207 E. Main St. and living at 21 Dolen St., Newark, O., says: "I made a statement in 1896, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, and the eight years which have passed have only strengthened my confidence in that remedy. It gives me pleasure in 1904 to confirm what I said in 1896, for my cure was so complete that I have never had any return of the trouble."

The statement made by Mr. Frey in 1896 was as follows: "For several years I was never free from pain, a constant dragging, aching in the kidneys. It was dull and dead so that I had to get up and move about if I sat for any length of time, my back would get so tired and aching so hard that it was really agonizing. I took several kidney medicines but I got no benefit until I happened to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Crayton's drug store. They did all that they promised for they completely removed the miserable pain from my back."

Is Your Boy a Drunkard?

Help Him By Orlene to Overcome His Craving—Can Be Given Secretly.

If your boy or husband has fallen a victim to the drink habit, endangering his future happiness and prosperity, do not delay a moment in helping him to overcome his craving for drink. Will-power alone cannot cure the liquor habit, for drunkenness is a disease and the desire for liquor must be satisfied.

Orlene, the wonderful specific for the cure for the whiskey and beer habit, removes all craving for drink with a few days' use and effects a permanent and lasting cure. It comes in two forms. No. 1 is perfectly colorless, tasteless and odorless, and can be given in tea, coffee or food without the patient's knowledge. But we recommend No. 2 in pill form, to be used by those who desire to free themselves from the terrible mastery of drink. The cost of either form is $1 a box. Orlene, the only guaranteed cure for the drink habit, is sold and recommended by F. D. Hall, 19 North Side Square, Newark, Ohio.

B. P. O. E.

The recent progressive polo party given by Newark Lodge, No. 391, B. P. O. E., to the members of the lodge and their ladies, proved such a complete and enjoyable success that it is said that the entertainment will be repeated in the near future.

Active preparations are going on among the members of Newark Lodge, No. 391, B. P. O. E., to attend the Elks minstrel entertainment at Coshoccon on Friday evening, March 17, in a body. Jones, George Ridenbaugh and W. A. Loar. The forester team mistook Esport F. M. O'Hara for one of the candidates and never discovered the difference until it was all over. The clerk, E. C. Richardson, was instructed to have the Citizens' phone put in his office (which already has the old phone), for the benefit of the neighbors. The clerk was also instructed

Knights of Pythias.

Some time ago W. W. Ashbrook of White Cross Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Johnstown, with his usual generosity and impetuosity, promised to give the members of the lodge a banquet when the membership of the lodge reached 200. That number has been reached, and the banquet will be given on Thursday evening, March 23. The members of the White Cross lodge will undoubtedly enjoy the banquet to the fullest extent, and no one will enjoy it any better than Mr. Ashbrook himself.

It is proposed to paint the town red and let everyone in Newark know that the Camels are coming. A full announcement of program etc., will be made during the coming week and all Newark Camels are urged to fall in line for the March across the hot sands of the desert for the second time since the organization. The Camels now number nearly 200.

NEWARK A. O. H. WILL OBSERVE ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN APPROPRIATE WAY

REVEREND L. W. MULHANE.

The Catholic Literary and Social Club of this city, will give a grand and royal entertainment at the Auditorium on the birthday of the Reverend Irish Saint, under the auspices of Division No. 1, A. O. H. of Newark, on March 17. Rev. L. W. Mulhane, the pastor of St. Vincent de Paul's church in Mt. Vernon, will deliver a beautiful lecture on "The Celtic at Home and Abroad." If you fail to hear this famous and renowned orator you will miss a grand treat. The lecture will be followed by the stirring drama, "The Heart of a Hero." A meeting of the division is called for Friday night, March 10, to make arrangements for the occasion.

to get out a new mailing list of the members of Cedar Camp and all neighbors are requested when in the office to leave with the clerk their address, also their telephone number, so that the clerk can send their names to the official paper. The officers and team of Cedar Camp will go to Hamilton, Ohio, on the 14th day of March, to confer the work on a large class of candidates. Representatives from New Philadelphia, Canal Dover, Port Washington, Cambridge and several other camps will be there to witness the work as Cedar Camp officers and team have the reputation of putting on the floor work, as the 14th in the state. There will be no public meeting on next Wednesday night, as the dance of the Forester team comes off on that night, which remains to be the best dance that will be held this year, and a good crowd is looked for.

The evening session of the bazaar was a great success, and the work was done by the Ladies' Bazaar Staff. The sick committee remembers and they are still growing. All brothers having applications signed up are requested to have the applications present at 7 p. m. for the final preparations.

Henry Shea received the work in the seventh degree on last Tuesday night and is now a full fledged Camel.

Brother Ed Crist was reported sick and the sick committee was placed in charge of his case.

American Insurance Union.

A large meeting prevailed Thursday evening at Newark Chapter No. 21. Several applications were presented and candidates were presented to be initiated, and the work was done by the Ladies' Bazaar Staff. The sick committee reported but seven on the sick list out of a membership of 500. This is exceptionally low for this season of the year. The dancing club will hold a special dance on the 17th of March. The colors worn will be green. Prizes will be offered for the best Irish characters. This dance will be strictly for the members of the order. A fine will be assessed on any member not wearing an article of dress in green. This will be one of the oddest entertainments of the season. Now get on your Irish mug.

Do You Know Good Healthy Sleep?

A healthy person sleeps a healthy sleep when tired.

When you find that half the time you can't sleep in the same old healthy way then it is time to take care of your nerves.

Tired nerves won't let you sleep well and won't let you feel well. They are sick; they demand attention and they won't let you alone until they get it. No prescription has ever been formulated that produced such wonderful and rapid results in building up tired nerves as Paine's Celery Compound.

Sleeplessness is simply one of the many warnings that tired, sick nerves give. Feed them with Paine's Celery Compound and you will build them back to their real strength and find again that good, healthy sleep,—which should come as natural to-day as it did in childhood.

You can take Paine's Celery Compound once a day, or once a month, or four times a day, according to your need; and when the medicine has done its work and your system is again running in the complete harmony of true health, you can cease taking the medicine, and you will not miss it. The reason is that Paine's Celery Compound is a real food for the nerve. It feeds and strengthens the entire nerve fabric.

The force sent out by healthy nerves is nature's stimulus, to keep all the organs of the body working well.

It is by restoring the nerves and making new Nerve Force that Paine's Celery Compound works all its wonders.

Health, vigor, determination, courage—in fact, all that makes life worth living depends upon a healthy supply of nerve force.

Paine's Celery Compound makes new Nerve Force, it revives the old force and makes new. It not only does this, but by strengthening the nerves that control all the organs of the body, it cures the real cause of headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, malaria, and the many diseases coming from a run down condition of the nerves.

Two days' treatment with Paine's Celery Compound will prove its marvelous power.

It braces you up and you feel its marvelous effect almost instantly.

A case of extreme nervousness and lack of good healthy sleep is told by Charles F. Campbell.

"I would jump at my own shadow. I suffered so from extreme nervousness.

"Every spring my condition was worse than the previous year. I was completely fagged out from loss of sleep, and a nervous wreck. Something had to be done or I would surely have gone crazy.

"A member of my family had taken your Paine's Celery Compound, and just for luck I took a dose of it one day. The details of my own cure would take too much time to relate, but it is sufficient that I consider that dose brought luck indeed.

"I am better physically and mentally at this moment than I have been since boyhood."

"I beg to remain, yours respectfully, C. F. Campbell, 263 Washington St., Boston, March 18, 1904."

For 18 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the most universally used nerve vitalizer and tonic in the world. Several years ago the formula was sent to every registered physician in the United States. It is constantly prescribed by physicians.

Think for a moment what this means and remember that Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians America has ever known—Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University. Paine's Celery Compound is recommended and sold by all reputable druggists everywhere.

HOARDED MONEY

If a person hides away a few dollars in a secret drawer or puts them in a small iron safe, does he consider it an expense? If he deposits them and receives credit in his savings bank book, does he class it as an expense? Why is it that so many men look upon a life insurance premium as an expense, and can not be induced to believe that it is not? When a person spends money for anything, it passes out of his possession. This is not the case with a life insurance premium. One deposits the money and it is kept for him awhile, and later it is given back again, with more added to it. It never passes out of his possession. It is his money just as much as if it were in a bank, and it is a great deal safer than if deposited in some bank. Give up the idea that insurance is an expense and see it in its true light. There is only one best company. The Equitable Life of New York, and it is the strongest in the world. O. M. and J. R. Tucker, agents.

Disappointment of Roosevelt's Inaugural.

Never has a more disappointing utterance been delivered by a president of the United States upon an inaugural occasion than the one delivered today by Theodore Roosevelt. The man whose friends have claimed would shatter all traditions, carve out a new path, and pronounce something original, unique, startling, has failed utterly to rise to the opportunity so boastfully proclaimed as Roosevelt's own. He indulges in generalities of the most insipid and unsatisfying character. There are no bronzen, brazen notes in his utterance. There is no throwing down of the gauntlet to the influences that threaten the very integrity of the government, and that Mr. Roosevelt has declared would sap the very life blood of our institutions, if permitted to go on unchecked.

Mr. Roosevelt laid aside the big stick, the bludgeon with spikes in it, and for it seems to have substituted a club liberally upholstered and stuffed with lamb's wool and sea weed. Read in the light of the report of Commissioner of Corporations Garfield, on the beef trust, a report that both justifies and palliates all the infamies of that octopus, the President's pronouncement is about the tamest thing imaginable and savors of a complete surrender.

It has been claimed by the President's friends that his inaugural utterance would take rank with the second inaugural addresses of both Jackson and Lincoln. Yet never was a greater contrast in state papers presented to the American people. It will be hard indeed for the student of history and of principles to find any common basis of comparison or to reconcile the address with what the people and the President's friends might reasonably have expected of him. The conclusion is inevitable that it is going to take a vast amount of actual performance of "stern duty," of "strenuous endeavor," etc., etc., for the administration to make good what the people have expected at the hands of the man whom they have heretofore regarded both as the personification of reform and an apostle of deliverance from the thrall of corporate oppression.

are new, though the tasks set before us differ from the tasks set before our fathers who founded and preserved this republic, the spirit in which these tasks must be undertaken and these problems faced, if our duty is to be well done, remains essentially unchanged. We know that self-government is difficult. We know that no people needs such high traits of character as that people which seeks to govern its affairs aright through the freely expressed will of the freemen who compose it. But we have faith that we shall not prove false to the memories of the men of the mighty past. They did their work, they left us the splendid heritage we now enjoy. We in our turn have an assured confidence that we shall be able to leave this heritage unimpaired and enlarged to our children and our children's children. To do so we must show, not merely in great crises, but in the everyday affairs of life, the qualities of practical intelligence, of hardihood and endurance, and above all the power of devotion to a lofty ideal, which made great the men who founded this republic in the days of Washington, which made great the men who preserved this republic in the days of Abraham Lincoln.

The conclusion of the address was the signal for another ovation, during which Mr. Roosevelt shook hands with most of the notables who pressed about the tribune. Then he was escorted back to the rotunda of the Capitol and thence to the executive chamber, where he held a brief reception before leaving the White House.

INAUGURATION

Of Vice President Fairbanks at 12:13 Appreciates the Honor and the Responsibility.

Washington, March 4—Vice President Fairbanks' inauguration took place at 12:13. Mr. Fairbanks spoke as follows:

"I enter upon the discharge of the duties of the position to which I have been called by my countrymen with great and full appreciation of the high honor and with a deep sense of the responsibilities we witness the majestic spectacle of a peaceful and orderly beginning of the administration of national affairs under the laws of a free and self-governing people. We pray that divine favor may attend it, and that peace and progress, justice and honor may abide with our country and with our countrymen."

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

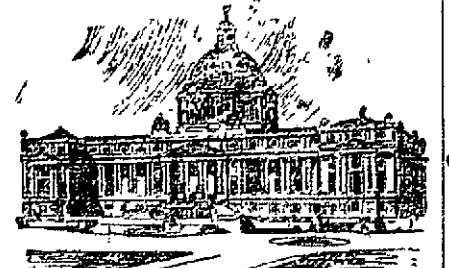

The impressive function was quickly followed by the final adjournment of the senate of the Fifty-eighth congress, the beginning of a special session, an address by the vice president and the swearing into office of almost a third of the membership of the senate. The installation of the new vice president was simple and brief. It consisted of a promise, solemnly made with uplifted hand and bowed head, to perform the duties of the office and to support and defend the constitution of the United States. This was the oath of office, and it was administered by Senator Frye as president pro tem. The ceremony attracted a notable gathering. On the senate floor, with his cabinet, were the president of the United States, the diplomatic corps, the supreme court of the United States, the house of representatives, the admiral of the navy, the lieutenant general of the army, the governors of states and other distinguished men. In the galleries were the wives, relatives and friends of the men who occupied seats below.

The oath concluded, Vice President Fairbanks and Senator Frye shook hands cordially, and Mr. Frye spoke a few hurried words of congratulation. The Maine senator relinquished his position as president pro tempore by announcing the final adjournment of the Fifty-eighth congress, and took his seat to listen to other senators to the address of the new vice president.

Day's Exercises.

At 10 a. m. the president was escorted by a detachment of troops from the White House to the Capitol. Proceeding to an anteroom of the senate, he at once became engaged in the work of scrutinizing and signing bills. At noon he witnessed the induction into office of Vice President Fairbanks, the chief executive occupying a seat on the floor of the senate. The appearance of the official party was the signal for cheers from the waiting multitude in the antechamber. When the justices of the supreme court marched down the steps to their seats, they were greeted with applause. The justices wore the robes and skull caps. They came the members of the diplomatic corps, in their gorgeous uniforms, and they moved in thunderous applause. Led by Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador and dean of the corps, and followed by the others in order of precedence, they took seats on the right of the stand. Strolling in after them came members of the cabinet, senators and representatives in congress. Mrs. Roosevelt and a party of friends and a moment later Mr. Fairbanks and his escort were assigned to their seats. Suddenly the crowd on the stand began to cheer. This was taken up by those immediately in front of the platform. The military presented arms, the committee uncovered, and soon the great sea of people was waving hats and flags and shouting itself hoarse. President Roosevelt came forth from between the massive pillars. He was escorted by Chief Justice Fuller. As the president passed down the aisle

he bowed his head and bowed in acknowledgment of the salutations from the stand and the ovation from the people. Shortly after 1 o'clock and at a sign from Chief Justice Fuller, the clerk of the supreme court stepped forward, holding a Bible. A hush fell over the crowd. The president raised his right hand and the oath to support the laws and constitution of the United States was reverently taken. When this had been concluded there was practically no demonstration, and the president began his inaugural address. As soon as he finished speaking he re-entered the Capitol, and as he disappeared within the building a signal was flashed to the navy yard, and the roar of 21 guns was begun in official salute to the president.

PARADE A FEATURE

The Military and Civic Organizations Make a Fine Showing in Parade at Washington.

Washington, March 4—An imposing spectacle was the great inauguration parade. It was miles in length, and both the military and civic bodies participating made excellent displays. It is estimated that there were from 25,000 to 30,000 men in line. General Chaffee, United States army, was grand marshal. At the conclusion of his inaugural address the president was received at the speakers' stand by the first brigade, first division military grand division, and the column immediately moved toward the White House. The parade was reviewed by the president from a stand on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue, opposite the White House. The parade moved in following order: Platoon of mounted police, order Platoon of mounted police, Fifth band, Artillery corps, U. S. A.; Grand marshal, Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee, U. S. A.; West Point Annapolis (cadet and midshipmen) color guard; staff.

Superb illuminations.

The illuminations on the several public buildings and in the court of history in front of the president's house were tested Friday night and found to work satisfactorily. They presented a very charming sight. Pennsylvania avenue was a blaze of light from the illumination in the dome of the Capitol at one end of the thoroughfare to the treasury department at the other. Pennsylvania avenue was a dense mass of strollers viewing the sights. Numerous military and civil organizations mingled with the plainly-attired inhabitants. At every hotel and clubhouse various political and patriotic organizations gave receptions to visiting governors. President Roosevelt and his family spent the evening quietly at the White House. At the vice president's home there was a dinner, followed by a reception.

The Ball Tonight.

Inaugural balls are the biggest social functions that occur in America. This evening's reception at the Pension building promises to exceed in grandeur its predecessors in the great edifice, famous as the largest brick structure in the world.

For weeks artists, painters, decorators, experts in electrical effects, florists, drapers, and a host of all kinds of artisans labored, and experimenters in transforming the vast interior of the barn-like building into a fairyland of beauty, wherein the "beautiful women and brave men" of Washington and the nation may pay social homage to the president. This they will do at $5 per head, and thus will be largely defrayed the expenses of the inauguration. There will be in the neighborhood of twelve thousand persons at the ball. Drawn from all classes, the congregation will probably include as representative, and well-dressed, a throng as could be collected. There will be diplomats and army officers, cabinet officers and government dignitaries, justices and judges, and a great mass of the plain people, many of whom will go for no other purpose than to rub elbows with the nobility, and to tell their children about it when they get home.

Keenest rivalry exists in the matter of dress at the inaugural ball. Gowns costing high up in three figures, and some in four, are brought from Paris and Vienna, arranged months in advance for this occasion. If perchance such gowns are ruined, their owners feel repaid for the hour or two of triumph when, following the first gentleman and lady of the land in the grand march, they know that few women of the six or seven thousand in the building are better dressed than they.

Mrs. Roosevelt's ball gown is made of a special weave of a new shade of light blue silk with figures of doves in gold tinsel. The shade has been named "Alice blue," in honor of the president's daughter, who selected the material at the St. Louis fair. The doves, which are represented as flying diagonally across the blue of the dress, are of varying sizes, from two inches between the tips of the wings down to the size of a bee.

Mrs. Fairbanks will wear a gown of white satin duchesse, embroidered with roses of gold in the natural size of the flower. The lace trimming is of Brussels pointed d'applique, with a design of bow-knots and marguerites interwoven.

Every man who has the right to sport a uniform will go so. Diplomats have been heard to sigh in years gone by when some Western governor and his staff have in sight. The odds were on the governor that his staff members would show more decorative beauty than the diplomat and his attaches; but American army officers in their new and variegated dress clothes will take their hat off to none.

The decorations of the ballroom will outdo anything that ever before has been attempted. Walls, columns, windows, and every nook and corner will be covered with greens and cut flowers, palms and ferns, flags, banners, and bunting, so that the thousands of guests may look with interest upon something else of beauty than dazzling gowns and glittering jewels. A carload of royal palms from Porto Rico with leaves 25 feet in length will enhance the royal grandeur, and ferns for the admiration of the multitude. Along the balconies will be strips of laurel caught up with wreaths. In front of the first balcony, at the top of the columns, will be placed large plaques of azaleas and other brilliant flowers, with vines and greens radiating therefrom. Tiny electric-light bulbs will be grouped in arches, circles, semicircles, and squares. Fireproof bunting will be draped from every vantage point, and shields and coat-of-arms of the various States will hang in conspicuous places.

As an additional attraction there will be a mixed chorus of 600 voices that will sing patriotic songs in greeting to the new Chief Executive.

The doors of the Pension building will be thrown open at 8 o'clock, but the President and his party will not arrive until 9 o'clock. All festivities will have to close sharply at midnight, because it is believed best to trespass no Sabbath principles.

Weber; vice presidents, Mrs. Jas. E. Thomas, Mrs. Abram Miller, Mrs. John Felix, Mrs. Chas. Van Buren; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. M. Browne; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. After discussion, the monthly envelope system was adopted instead of the contingent box. The program for the coming year will be based on "Dux Christus," a study of Japan. The program was enlivened by a sweetly sung hymn, "Bringing all the Tithes," by Kathleen and Kingsley Cosgrove and Paul and Frank Weber. Miss Ball read a most interesting letter from Dr. Fulton's mother, of Canton, China, thanking the ladies for their share in the preparation of the box which was sent there by the Zanesville Presbytery.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember that after marriage many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." Hall's drug store, sells and guarantees them, at 50c bottle.

A solemn duty which we owe society, our children and ourselves is that nothing which can be done to assist nature at that time when our wives are to become mothers should be left undone. Of all the countless details to be observed at such a time, no single one is of more importance than the bodily welfare of the expectant mother, she must not experience undue suffering through any lack of effort on our part.

Don't Neglect Yourself.

1428 Second Street, Louisville, Ky., April 14, 1905.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.

His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it.

I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

Health means everything. In clothes, furniture, etc., if the buyer gets a poor or imitation article, the only harm is loss of money. In buying food-articles, if imitations are supplied, there is a loss of money, and probably an injury to health—which is beyond price.

DRUGS, BRAIN AND MOTION

Opinion of Noted Medical Authority.

"Opium or morphine," says Bartholow, the noted medical authority, "produces disorder of brain and motion; it depresses the action of the lungs; produces dryness of the throat; loss of movements of the bowels and lessens the functional activity of the kidneys." From the foregoing it can be easily understood why patent medicines depending on these and similar drugs for their effect are dangerous and expose you to fatal disease. When physicians and hospitals prescribe Father John's Medicine for chronic throat and lung troubles and all rundown conditions, it is because they know that it is pure and wholesome and free from nerve-deadening drugs. It is invaluable as a spring tonic because it nourishes the blood and nerves and drives out the impurities. Its gentle laxative effect corrects the digestion and starts the system working in a natural way. It builds you up and makes you strong—not a patent medicine—50 years in use.

RUSSIA

Said to Have Sustained a Crushing Defeat

GREAT BATTLE CONTINUES

Kuropatkin Reports Russians Abandoned Jachtoolin--Many Thousands Killed.

(Bulletin)

Berlin, March 4.—A telegram from St Petersburg today gives the contents of what is said to have been a code dispatch from General Kuropatkin, commander of the Russian army in Manchuria, as follows:

"Two hundred and sixty thousand Japanese have broken through my left wing, which is cut off from the main army. The Japanese are marching on Mukden and my position is extremely dangerous."

It is said the officials in St. Petersburg admit Kuropatkin has sustained a crushing defeat, but the extent of the disaster is not accurately known. Kuropatkin is said to have reported losses in the recent fight at 30,000, and the Japanese loss at 40,000.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—General Kuropatkin today reports that the Russians have been compelled to evacuate Jachtoolin. The Japanese, he adds, have sustained enormous losses as the result of the fighting on the left flank. An unofficial telegram from the front states that the Japanese have made six successive attempts to storm the Russian central position. Each time they advanced within 200 yards of the Russian position but were repelled with great losses.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—General Birjevia reports from Mukden that a force of Japanese marching from the Luo river toward Sumniting encountered a Russian force 17 versts west of Mukden. A determined fight ensued, the result of which is not known. The Japanese later occupied Sumniting.

Tokyo, March 4.—General Oku has captured nine miles of Russian positions on the right bank of the Hun river. The battle is continuing along the whole front.

THE OLD WAY WILL DO

Now, pa, there is no use frettin'. We won't all have to die just because the dictors' prices have gone soarin' up so high.

We will have to go to doctorin'. Like we used to long ago, When we had just been married And times were rather slow.

Now you only earn a dollar And I can't earn a cent, Still life to us is precious, Though our days are almost spent.

You will have to take a day off, And go out with your hoe And gather up some roots for me, And all the herbs you know.

There is pennyroyal for fevers, Good for the stomach, too, It is very strange the wonders These simple herbs can do.

Then slippery-elm is very good For several different ills, If you will drink a little dilly You will have no use for pills.

And sulphur and molasses, Just after the first spring flood, It taken every second day, Will purify the blood.

All these old and simple remedies Our mothers, found so true, In the greater part of cases I think we'll find will do.

I guess the doctors, all are tired, Perhaps they need a rest, 'Twas the only way to get it It may be for the best.

So we'll turn in and help them, It will be the kinder way, We'll do our own doctorin' for awhile, And give them a holiday.

CZAR GIVES PEOPLE A VOICE

Nicholas Issues a Rescript Proclaiming An Assembly--Representatives to be Elected--General Strike Proclaimed by St. Petersburg Workmen.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 4.—The Czar's rescript summoning a representative assembly has produced an excellent effect, and has turned the universal gloom caused by the reactionary manifesto into a feeling that the dawn of Liberalism is approaching. The details, manner and time of the convening of the assembly have not yet been decided, but the fact that the Czar has accepted the general principle is hailed as epoch-making. Some of the conservatives while acknowledging that a great forward step has been taken, fear the assembly's deliberations will be too liberal to please the Czar and will result in reactionism.

The strike movement is spreading again. Stringent precautions are being taken to prevent disorders and the general opinion is that there will be no violent demonstrations. It is generally believed today that the strike so far as being general, will soon collapse.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—A general strike was proclaimed at sectional meetings of workmen here.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—Surrounded by the ministers and members of the court, the czaraffixed his signature to a rescript giving elected representatives of the people an opportunity to express their views in the preparation of the laws of the empire. This is the autocracy's final response to the agitation in favor of participation by the people in government which has brought Russia in the last few months almost to the brink of revolution. Its import must not be misunderstood. For the present, at least, it involves no change in the regime of autocracy, and it means neither a constitution nor a national assembly. At the same time it recognizes the principle of the people's right to be heard regarding laws under which they must live. Whatever the result may be, the document is sure to mark an epoch in Russian history as important, if not more important, than the signing of the emancipation manifesto, the twenty-fourth anniversary of which it was intended to signalize.

The imperial rescript reads, in part: "My desire is to attain the fulfillment of my intentions for the welfare of my people by means of the co-operation of the government with experienced forces of the community and to retain the prestige of the Russian nation undiminished and to maintain order therein. I am resolved henceforth, with the help of God, to convene the worthiest men possessing the confidence of the people and elected by them, to participate in the elaboration and consideration of legislative measures. Taking into consideration the peculiar circumstances of the fatherland, its multiplicity of races and, in certain parts of the country, the weak development of citizenship, Russian rulers in their wisdom instituted reforms in accord with their mature requirements, but only in logical sequence, at the same time considering the continuation of firm historical ties with the past as a pledge for the durability and stability of the present. In undertaking these reforms, I am convinced that local needs and experience of life well weighed and sincere speech of those elected will insure fruitfulness to legislation for the real benefit of the people."

The workmen left their meetings in St. Petersburg threatening to inaugurate a general strike. The streets are again full of Cossacks, and every preparation and precaution has been taken in anticipation of possible trouble. Extra editions of the Official Messenger containing the imperial manifesto and rescript have been distributed in all the industrial quarters. The refusal of the workmen's ultimatum demanding release of their fellows arrested since Jan. 22, open meetings and free publication of the proceedings of the Schidlovski conciliation commission was because the government realized that the forces behind the workmen were political agitators. The freeing of those arrested would simply reinforce the workmen, and open meetings would be used, not for the purpose of adjusting strike differences, but to make revolutionary speeches for dissemination throughout the press.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 3c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A WONDERFUL CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

A Prominent Newspaper's Endorsement--Investigates Many Remarkable Cures.

(From the Daily Courier, Findlay, Ohio, October 25, 1902.)

A new and wonderful discovery for the cure of rheumatism and other kindred diseases, has been acquired by Findlay parties, and in the future will be manufactured and marketed from this city. The new cure has been thoroughly tested by a number of Findlay people, and in every instance with such good results that there can be no doubt of its great value.

The results were in many cases absolutely marvelous, almost beyond belief, for it has given relief to people who have suffered for years with the terrible pains of rheumatism, and who had tried every known medicine, as well as the best physicians, without obtaining relief.

This wonderful remedy is known as Jamaica Rheumatic Cure. A Courier representative has made some investigations of the trials of Jamaica Rheumatic Cure made by Findlay parties, and has been greatly impressed with the character of the evidence obtained, and the undoubted genuineness of the cures. As a rule recommendations of a medicine come from afar off, from people no one knows, and of whose existence they have serious doubts. But when you can see and talk with the persons who have been cured, you can't help having faith in what they say. It appears from the testimony of those who have tried it, that Jamaica is not only a positive cure for rheumatism, but that it will also cure chronic constipation, dizziness, indigestion, poor appetite, sleeplessness and all diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is claimed for it that it does not contain any opium, laudanum, morphine nor cocaine, and can therefore be taken with safety. It is an internal medicine, working directly upon the blood, and when a person is cured he stays cured.

The Jamaica Rheumatic Cure is sold by all druggists at $1 a bottle, or sent to any address, prepaid, on receipt of price, by the Jamaica Remedy Co., sole proprietors, Findlay, Ohio.

Sold in Newark Ohio, by Frank D. Hall, druggist.

Some people regard a bank as a bank—a place to put money, and incidentally draw a little interest.

The difference in banks, however, is worthy of serious thought.

First, take the policy of the institution. Is it conservative? Ours is. Next, are the officers, directors and employees men of sterling integrity, proven ability and sound judgment? Ours are.

Again, what does it do with its earnings? Ours has been placing all of its earnings in a surplus fund for the protection of its depositors. Could the owners of this bank show their confidence in it in any better manner?

Finally, safety being provided for, what rate of interest does the bank pay on time deposits? Ours pays 4 per cent.

We might go further, and mention many other points—in all of which our institution excels. We would like to do business with you, if you are not already numbered among our army of depositors.
